

TECHNICAL PARTNER

A part-time CTO, without the salary.

You can see where better systems and a bit of AI could take the business. What you are missing is someone technical in your corner to tell you what is worth building, what is not, and what to do first. That is the job. Pick the shape that fits how you work.

The Fortnightly Partner

£500 / 4 weeks + VAT (£600 inc)

A video call every two weeks, plus support in between. We work through your technical challenges as they land and build the systems out together, step by step. It is the closest thing to a CTO on the team without carrying one on the payroll.

Best if you are actively building and want steady momentum, plus someone to keep you honest between sessions.

The Monthly Advisor

£300 / month + VAT (£360 inc)

One video call a month. We review where you are, take on the biggest technical question on your plate, and agree what to focus on next. A steady hand on the tiller rather than hands on the build, and it costs you no billable time in the day.

Best if you are mostly capable on your own and want a regular sounding board before you commit time or money to the wrong thing.

OPTIONAL FAST START · The Intensive

£1,500

+ VAT one-off (£1,800 inc)

One full day, in person, with a pre-call and questionnaire before and a follow-up call after. You finish with a prioritised roadmap: what to do yourself, what to automate, where AI earns its place, and what to leave alone. A focused way to start before moving onto a recurring option. Travel billed at cost.

What is included, and what is not

What is included

- ✓ A technical partner in your corner: what to build, what to skip, and in what order.
- ✓ AI where it genuinely fits, plus general systems and technical direction the rest of the time.
- ✓ Fortnightly: a call every two weeks plus email support in between. Monthly: one call a month.
- ✓ Calls held early morning or evening, so your trading day stays intact.

What is not covered

- ⊖ Done-for-you build and implementation. We work out what to build and guide you through it; delivering a finished project for you is a separate engagement.
- ⊖ Between-call support is by email, on a reasonable-effort basis. It is for unblocking and quick steers, not an on-call service or a helpdesk.
- ⊖ Your own software, subscriptions and licences (tools, hosting, accounts) are billed to you directly.
- ⊖ On-site work. The recurring options are remote. In person is the intensive.

Protected thinking time

We deliberately meet outside the 9-to-5 because that is the only time you are not firefighting. No staff interrupting, no phone going, no "quick question" at the door. It is the one slot in your week where you actually work on the business instead of in it.

THE GUARANTEE

Try it for a month. No lock-in.

If the first month is not obviously worth it, cancel and we refund it in full. After that it is rolling: cancel any time with 30 days' notice.

The Intensive carries a performance guarantee instead: finish the day without a roadmap you are confident in, and we keep working the follow-up call until you have one.

REFERRALS Refer someone and you both get £100 off. Your £100 lands once they have made their second payment.

Common questions

The things owners usually ask before starting.

Why are the calls held outside 9-to-5?

On purpose. It is the slot where you are not firefighting, so you get to work on the business rather than in it, and your trading day stays fully intact.

What does "support in between" include?

Email between calls for the things that come up, on a reasonable-effort basis. It is for unblocking and quick steers, not a same-hour helpdesk.

Can I change or cancel?

Yes. Move between Fortnightly and Monthly whenever it suits, or cancel with 30 days' notice after the first month.

Do you build it all for me?

We do it with you and guide the build, so you finish knowing how it works. If you would rather it was built and run for you, that is a separate done-for-you engagement we can scope.

How does VAT work?

Prices are shown ex-VAT and VAT is added at invoice: £500 + VAT is £600 every four weeks, £300 + VAT is £360 a month.

How we get started

- 1 Pick the shape that fits: Fortnightly, Monthly, or a one-day Intensive to start fast.
- 2 A short kickoff to set up access and agree the first thing to tackle.
- 3 First call goes in the diary, out of hours, and we get moving.
